KEYNOTE: THE 4TH EDITION OF THE ASAM CRITERIA AND THE FUTURE OF ADDICTION CARE

R. Corey Waller MD, MS

Editor in Chief, The ASAM Criteria

Chief Medical Officer, BrightView Health

The ASAM Criteria is used nationally to describe the addiction treatment system of care. Since the last update in 2013, the treatment ecosystem and the payments for care have drastically changed. In order to help create an evidence-based treatment system that is both effective and efficient, ASAM doubled down on the 4th edition of The ASAM Criteria. The 4th edition was updated via a methodological approach, with over 1000 data extracted references, 120+ expert authors, a public comment period, and thousands of man hours over 2 years of development. The result is a tool that will create a common language between providers, patients, regulators, and payers. It will provide a means to quickly determine the appropriate level of care and act as the treatment planning tool all in one.

9:05am – 10:05am

PRECISION MEDICINE: PREDICTING RESPONSE TO TREATMENT AND OUTCOMES WITH MACHINE LEARNING AND PHARMACOGENOMICS

Albert J. Arias, MD, MS

Associate Professor of Psychiatry

Virginia Commonwealth University / Medical College of Virginia

Dr. Arias will discuss his investigations into precision guided therapies for the treatment of depression with ketamine and the treatment of alcohol use disorder (AUD) with anticonvulsants. This new approach involves the application of machine learning to build predictive models to help identify patients that are likely to respond to the medication. For AUD treatment, the predictive models may be improved in the future by including genetic data and evidence to support this will be presented.

10:05am – 10:20am

COFFEE BREAK

10:20am – 11:20am

VIRGINIA’S OPIOID ABATEMENT AUTHORITY: UPDATES ON APPLICATION, PATHWAY, ETC.

Sarah T. Thomason, PharmD, BCPP, BCACP

Professor, Gatton College of Pharmacy at East Tennessee State University

Vice-Chair, Virginia Opioid Abatement Authority

The Opioid Abatement Authority (OAA) was established by the Virginia General Assembly in 2021 as an independent entity to abate and remediate the opioid epidemic in the Commonwealth through financial support from the Virginia Opioid Abatement Fund in the form of grants, donations, or other assistance, for efforts to treat, prevent, and reduce opioid use disorder and the misuse of opioids in the Commonwealth. The OAA serves to build partnerships between Virginia's cities and counties, state agencies, and providers of services in order to assist individuals suffering from opioid use disorders and co-occurring substance use and mental illness. These partnerships address the full range of services providing education about substance use, prevention, treatment, and recovery supports. This presentation will describe the status of opioid litigation settlements in the Commonwealth of Virginia; explain the types of efforts that can be funded with opioid settlement funds and describe the challenges and opportunities for communities and service providers seeking to stem the opioid epidemic.

11:20am - 12:20pm

EFFECTIVELY TREATING OPIOID USE DISORDER IN PREGNANCY

Marci Waggoner, WHNP-BC, AGPCNP-BC

Associate Medical Director, Master Center for Addiction Medicine

Opioid use in pregnancy has escalated dramatically in recent years, paralleling the epidemic observed in the general population. To combat the opioid epidemic, all healthcare providers need to take an active role. Pregnancy provides an important opportunity to identify and treat women with substance use disorders. This presentation will discuss opioid agonist pharmacotherapy in the treatment of opioid use disorder in pregnancy, and related outcomes. Additionally, presents will discuss psychosocial considerations, risks, and benefits, in addition to special needs for pregnant women in substance use treatment and recovery.

12:20pm - 1:20pm

NETWORKING LUNCHEON

1:20pm - 1:50pm

STUDENT/TRAINEE POSTER PRESENTATIONS

1:50pm - 2:20pm

XYLAZINE

Brandon Wills, DO, FASAM, FACEP

Medical Director, VCU MOTIVATE Clinic; Fellowship Director, Medical Toxicology

Xylazine has been in the press lately as a common adulterant in the heroin supply, also known as "tranq dope." This session will review the clinical toxicology of xylazine, summarize other sequelae of xylazine injection, and discuss patient care principles for patients with opioid use disorder.

2:20pm - 2:50pm

GAS STATION DOPE(S): KRATOM & TIANEPTENE

Anne Ickes, DO

Addiction Medicine and Emergency Medicine Physician, Virginia Tech Carilion Clinic

Kratom and Tianeptene can be found in our gas stations. They have various clinical effects based on dose. Clinical considerations for Kratom and Tianeptene abuse are not well established but awareness amongst clinicians is imperative for psychoeducation and treatment plans.

2:50pm - 3:20pm

PHENIBUT: A NEW (TO US) UNREGULATED CNS DEPRESSANT

Beth Yanoff, MD

Addiction Medicine Physician, Mary Washington Healthcare

Phenibut is a psychoactive analog of GABA that was developed in Russia in the 1960s and has been used since then to treat a variety of conditions including anxiety and insomnia. In the United States it is not regulated as a pharmaceutical, but is widely available for purchase as a supplement. As with other sedative-hypnotics, it has potential for misuse, dependence, and withdrawal. We will review the pharmacology of phenibut and discuss the presentation and management of phenibut toxicity, dependence, and withdrawal.

3:20pm - 3:50pm

PANEL DISCUSSION WITH TOXICOLOGY PRESENTERS

Brandon Wills, DO, FASAM, FACEP

Medical Director, VCU MOTIVATE Clinic; Fellowship Director, Medical Toxicology

Anne Ickes, DO
